Annual Report of the Stratford Planning Board 1970

In accordance with the vote of the Town, the Board has concentrated its attention on the question of water supply and waste disposal in the Town, while preparing maps and interviewing the consultants retained for joint planning under the so-called Coos-Six Project.

Much time of the individual members was taken up in search for a reliable source of water for Stratford Hollow. Meetings and discussions with residents of the village were held. It appeared, finally, that the best source of water would be the East Branch of Bog Brook. Accordingly, investigation was made of the watershed, and Environment Engineers, Inc., of Concord were invited to survey the potential of this source and advise upon the feasibility of a water system based on an impoundment of water flowing from the East Branch watershed. Initial objections of the State Water Supply and Pollution Control Commission have been overcome by a compromise system which will avoid the necessity of an expensive purification plant. The engineers are now in process of preparing initial estimates of cost for presentation to the Town. It is felt that, if the residents who will benefit by the system will carry through with volunteer labor as discussed in various meetings, this system could be intalled during 1971 at a cost within reason, which cost could well be retired over the life of a bond issue.

A proposed sewage disposal system, estimated by its designers to cost $1,140,000.00, seems to the Board members to be very expensive. An alternative system of waste disposal which would handle solid wastes as well as sewage, seems to be worth investigation. Application for a small grant from the Environmental Protection Agency has been submitted, which, if approved, will allow a pilot project to be conducted for one full year. The cost to the Town, in participation in this project, would be not in excess of $3,900. The Pollution Control Commission has agreed to this pilot project., If the prject provides successful results, the cost of full-scale operation of the system in the future would be covered by user fees similar to present water charges in North Stratford.

Pending the final report of the consultants retained for the "Coos-Six Project," the Board is not prepared to make recommendations for zoning or other matters suggested by the consultants, except as to developments. In view of problems already encountered by many towns in Vermont and New Hampshire, the Board recommends that it be empowered by vote of the Town to require submission of plans for developments before any construction is begun, and to prescribe regulations under which any such construction may be undertaken.

Respectfully submitted,

STRATFORD PLANNING BOARD.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

There have been three major changes this year in our educational program.

(1) The closing of the program at Stratford Hollow for grades 1-6 and their transportation to North Stratford. The children have adjusted to the change very well and have taken an active part in their new programs. The Hollow School Building has been utilized for the Head Start Program and an office for The Handicapped Children's Project. The Office of the new Pupil Personnel Director of the North Country Education Services is also combined with The Handicapped Project at the Hollow.

(2) Supervisory Union Elementary Consultant.

Mr. Flight has been working closely with the elementary teachers to develop a long range coordinated curriculum plan for grades 1-6. He has also arranged for several workshops for the elementary teachers in the union. A positive plan of action has been started to meet the new elementary minimum standards which go into effect in the fall of 1972.

(3) Secondary school schedule changes. The schedule changes which went into effect in September have made it possible for our high school and junior high programs to be much more flexible. It has allowed students more opportunity to participate in the total program and more freedom of choice in selecting their courses.

The addition of a full-time science teacher has strengthened this academic area considerably and was a long needed improvement.

It has also been possible to utilize Mrs. Elliott who is employed by the union as an English teacher at the secondary level. She is also teaching part-time at Groveton High School.

The Special Education Project under Title III this year was drastically revised. Instead of a self-contained class with a limited number of students it was decided to try and concentrate on two areas of service, speech and hearing, and children with learning difficulties.

The children remain in their individual schools and are visited by specialists who work with them on a one to one basis or in small groups. Our testing and screening devices showed that there was a great need for this kind of help. Our present program has made it possible to reach many more children. A North Country Education Services program in speech and hearing has also made it possible to reach additional children by utilizing therapists from the Portsmouth Rehabilitation Center.

The Stratford Title I program under Mr. Hawley's direction provided for individual student tutoring during the school year. It also made it possible with the cooperation of the town and other agencies to have a summer recreation program involving many children in a variety of activities.

Although there was a large turnover in staff at both the elementary and secondary levels there has been a very high degree of cooperation and enthusiasm among the faculty this year. Mr. Goodson and the entire staff are to be complimented on their work and interest in the total educational program.

We have been well aware of the local economic conditions and sincerely hope the future outlook can be an optimistic one and that general employment will improve during the next twelve months. The local school board has taken these conditions into consideration in preparing their budget for the 1971-72 school year.

I am sorry that the school calendar for 1971-72 doesn't appear in this year's report. The school unions in the North Country would like to have their calendars coincide as closely as possible and we hope to develop one together. As soon as it has been determined, copies will be made available to anyone who would like one.

I would like to express my thanks to the staff, the school board and the citizens of Stratford for your cooperation and support during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

ALAN E. RICH,

Superintendent of Schools
